

CLEVELAND SAYS FIGHT.

Tariff Reform First of All Issues for Democraats in This Election, the Ex-President Declares.

MUST CARRY CONGRESS.

Democratic Success Not to Be Endangered by Lukewarm or Half-Hearted Party Campaigning Now.

Ex-President Cleveland was asked today by the Evening Post to give his view of the present state of the Democratic party, its chances and the duty which was incumbent upon it. He replied as follows:

"It seems to me that if the Democracy is really in earnest it cannot fail largely to increase its representation at the next Congress, but in order to do so I think that there must be a constant and stalwart insistence upon the things which are recognized by all to be true Democratic doctrines.

Tariff Reform.
"Of course, by far the most important of these is tariff reform. On this issue I am satisfied that the Democracy is face to face with a great opportunity. All of the signs of the times point to a recognition far beyond all party lines of the benefits which would accrue to the people by a readjustment of the tariff, and it would be worse than folly for the party under the stress of any temptation or yielding to any ailment to permit this to be subordinated to or overshadowed by any other issue.

"The present restlessness in Republican circles on this subject, often amounting to protests against Republican protective theories, should warn the Democracy of an impending danger. I mean by this the possibility that our opponents may crowd us from our position on this subject, if we allow them to do so by our unweariness and innumerable and to occupy our ground, just as we permitted them to crowd us from the ground that belonged to us on the question of sound money.

Pleased with Platform.
"I am very much pleased with the deliverance of the new tariff platform on the tariff issue, and it was in my proper that the complete State should sound the right note. It is my great conviction that the best assurance of success for the Democracy in the next national campaign will be its adherence to a sincere and unflinching insistence upon the tariff issue, and that the success should be from now on.

"I have always said that success will depend upon the presentation of tariff reform, not only recognized as truly Democratic by those who may be termed veterans in the party, but also commencing itself to the hosts of the younger men of our land. Thousands of those who are waiting for a cause which must appeal to disinterested love of country, and which is based upon the highest and noblest of all people and the safety of the institutions under which we live.

"To face this great duty, I hope is offered for the realization of their patriotic aspirations, except through the conscientious endeavors of the Democratic party.

On Party Warfare.
"I am at a loss to understand by what process of reasoning the notion has gained a footing in certain Democratic quarters, not only of no importance at all to a Democratic assembly in the next House of Representatives, but even that it might be regarded as a party prospect in 1901 for it to continue in its present attitude now. I believe that the best of the party is to be all circumstances. Constant vigilance and unrelenting attack are essential to victory in the outposts.

"I cannot believe that the bright promise of the future in the present campaign is to be marred by any lack of hard work and strenuous fighting."

Third Wife for Widower of 81.
Bride-to-be of Barclay White, a Hale Old Quaker, "Elderly," but Her Age Not Told.

(Special to The Evening World.)
MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Oct. 14.—An announcement has been made of the engagement of Barclay White, of this city, to Adele V. White, an elderly woman residing in Philadelphia. The prospective bridegroom is eighty-one years old, but the age of the bride-to-be is not given. White is a widower and one of the best known members of the Society of Friends in Burlington County. He has always led an active life and may be termed the personification of preciseness in all his business dealings. As a church historian he heads all in his own religious sect.

Barclay White was born in 1821 in Philadelphia and attended at the Friends' School, Westtown, and Smith's Academy, Wilmington, Del. He was twice married, in 1842 and again in 1852.

FORD'S TRIAL BEGINS.
Deputy Tax Assessor Accused of Taking a Bribe.

The trial of Thomas J. Ford, Deputy Tax Assessor of the Bronx, was commenced today before Recorder Goff, in General Sessions.

Ford is accused of having accepted a bribe of $100 from a property owner to reduce taxation. He was arrested last October and has since been on bail. It was through the Ford case that Detective Rynders got into trouble. Rynders had charge of the marked bills given to Ford to hold as evidence. Rynders spent the money and was indicted for theft. He was allowed to resign from the police force.

NEW YORK POLICEMEN MUST WALK ON THE CURB LINE IN THE FUTURE.

BIG TUNNEL PLAN ASSURED.

So Declares Vice-President McInnes, in Discussing the Proposed Franchise Grant to the Pennsylvania Company.

THE ALDERMEN ARE DIVIDED.

In anticipation of the presentation by the Railroad Committee of the report on the Pennsylvania Railroad franchise, the Aldermen presented "solid front" at the regular meeting today. They were destined to disappointment, as was a large aggregation of labor men who were present to protest against the adoption of the report minus the much-discussed eight-hour law provision, and the prevailing rate of wages provision.

The matter did not come up for action in any aspect. It appears that the Rapid Transit Commission has not yet forwarded the approved form of franchise to the Aldermanic Railroad Committee. Until that is done the question of final consideration on the franchise by the Board cannot be settled.

The Board Divided.
There is a division in the board on the adoption of the franchise in its present form. Many of the Aldermen are opposed to the projected connection with Long Island, fearing that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company purposes to divert traffic ultimately to Montauk Point to the sacrifice of local business interests.

Alderman Stewart, of Brooklyn, said: "I am opposed to the scheme because it means the diversion of business from New York and Brooklyn."

Vice-President McInnes said: "The franchise in its present form will go through. Public sentiment cannot be opposed in this matter. The public wants the tunnel. The Board will approve the granting of the franchise and its adoption in its present form, irrespective of any labor clause—the eight-hour provision or any other."

President Cassidy, who appears at the meetings of the board only when matters pertinent to the interest of Queens Borough come up, secured affirmative action by the board on his pet scheme of extending the Lincoln avenue sewer to the disposal works.

"It's a great scheme and ought to go through," said President Cassidy. "Well, it's cost a million," expostulated Alderman Wafer.

Fourth Avenue Widening.
When the old question of widening Fourth avenue between Eighth and Ninth street for a laza in conjunction with the rapid transit subway, came up, a lively argument followed. Alderman Kenny, of Brooklyn, led the opposition. He declared the proposed widening was a scheme for private benefit.

When the Board learned that the Supreme Court could act in the matter irrespective of the Board's decision, and condemn the property for the Rapid Transit Commission, the opposition subsided and the resolution prevailed.

RUSSELL SAGE IMPROVING.
Greatly Benefited by Change from Country to City.

When an Evening World reporter called at the house of Russell Sage, No. 506 Fifth avenue, this afternoon, the maid said that Mr. Sage was feeling much better today. She said that he was taking an after-dinner nap, and therefore could not be seen.

The change from Lawrence, New York has greatly benefited the financier. He was not tired by the journey and has been as much improved by his homecoming this fall as he was by the change from the city to the country last spring.

POLICEMEN TO KEEP NEAR CURB

Capt. Piper Thinks They Will Be Seen Better There When Needed by a Citizen, and Makes New Rule.

JEROME INDORSES HIM.

Capt. Piper, the new Deputy Police Commissioner, is making more trouble for the policemen who neglect their duty. At his suggestion Commissioner Partridge has issued an order requiring that all patrolmen when on their beat must keep as near as possible to the curb line. This, it is explained, is so that they may be seen when they are wanted.

This activity of Capt. Piper is warmly indorsed by District-Attorney Jerome, who said today that the new Deputy was moving in the right direction to correct abuses in the department. "There's been a lot of fun poked at Capt. Piper," Mr. Jerome added, "but of course the stories have all emanated from policemen who have been caught with the goods on them."

As a result of this activity on the part of Capt. Piper, Sgt. Michael Lamy, of the Church street station, has applied for retirement. Lamy was at the desk when Capt. Piper visited the station last week, and it was said that charges had been preferred against him, but he has denied them and that Lamy was the man.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN ON WITNESS STAND

Former Champion Pugilist Testifies in "Dan" Dwyer's Suit Against the Metropolitan.

John L. Sullivan went to the Supreme Court today to testify in the suit brought by "Dan" Dwyer for $10,000 damages for injuries from the Metropolitan Street Railway Company.

With Sullivan was his former partner, "Ed" O'Gorman.

Dwyer was knocked down by a trolley one night about a year ago. Sullivan was with him at the time of the accident.

PATROLMAN WAN'S MEDAL.
He Saved the Lives of Two Drowning Children.

Patrolman George H. Holden, of the East Fifty-first Street Station, today made application before United States Commissioner Shields, in the Federal Building, for one of the life saving medals given by Congress.

The officer asserts that on July 22, last, at the risk of his life, he rescued Rose and Peter Spitzraden, twelve and eight years, respectively, who fell into the East River near the foot of Fifty-first street. Holden jumped into the river in uniform and taking one of the children under each arm, succeeded in reaching the pier where Watchman Garry assisted in pulling the little ones out of the water.

"ONE-EYED RED" KILLED IN A BLOW

Andrew Campiglia, Witnesses Say, Shot Charles Curran, a Bowery Bouncer, and Crowd Pursued Till He Was Caught.

SHUNNED VICTIM'S BODY. DID NOT LIKE SCHOOL.

Charles Curran, known on the Bowery as "One-Eyed Red," was shot and instantly killed early today in "Tony and John's" restaurant at No. 149 Bowery.

Andrew Campiglia is at the Eldridge street police station charged with the murder. The shooting followed a quarrel between the two men over money.

Curran is a well-known Bowery character and has recently acted as "bouncer" at the "Little Jumbo," at No. 19 Bowery. Campiglia was a waiter there. Soon after midnight policemen from the Eldridge street station closed the place and drove out the crowd. Curran and Campiglia went to Tony and John's restaurant.

The place was crowded and the men soon started to quarrel. Two waiters, Joseph Garbarino and Tony Azzetti, who are held as witnesses, were in the rear of the place when they heard five shots. The place was quickly cleared and Curran was found lifeless on the floor. A bullet had entered his abdomen, the other four shots going wild.

Between Two Pursuers.
Policeman Flood stood at Grand street a block below, and saw Campiglia running toward him pursued by the crowd. In the excitement the fugitive passed the policeman, who joined in the chase. Policeman Black came from a doorway at Hester street, and, as Campiglia saw him, he doubled back and ran into the arms of Flood.

In the meantime Dr. McDonald, of Gouverneur Hospital, pronounced Curran dead. Campiglia was taken to the station, and as he was being led to his cell he saw the body in the yard. He cringed at the sight and begged the policeman to hurry him to his cell.

Immediately after the arrest of Campiglia, Capt. Gallagher started his men in a search for witnesses, and seven were locked up. Among them is Alfred W. Dwyer, who heard the quarrel as he stood on the sidewalk. Thinking that the angry words would lead to more serious trouble, he watched through the windows and finally has seen the shooting and claims to identify Campiglia as the man who fired the shots.

The police say that a quarrel between the two men had occurred before, and have given them no end of trouble. It is not the first time, either, that shooting scrapes have occurred in the Tony and John's, and John Dondario, the proprietor, has been summoned before "Sect. Gallagher."

The murdered man came from Philadelphia about eight years ago. For a time he was a bootlegger and before being employed at the "Little Jumbo" was "bouncer" at the "Whitehouse."

Campiglia made a plea for twice that length of time, saying that he came in the case are entered in the Government records. The original decision was adhered to, however.

TITUS NOT TO GO FREE ALLEGED SAYS PARTRIDGE

Police Commissioner Declares He Has No Present Intention of Removing the Head of the Detective Bureau.

TO MAKE MANY PROMOTIONS.

Ten Detective Sergeants and Fifty Police Sergeants to Be Chosen During This Week from Among the Men in Highest Standing.

Ten or a dozen policemen are to be made detective sergeants, and the first list on the eligible list will be made sergeants in the Police Department in a few days.

This announcement was made today by Police Commissioner Partridge.

"At this present moment I have no idea of moving Capt. Titus. But I do not wish you gentlemen (speaking to the newspaper reporters) to assume that I have broken faith. Such a charge is likely to be made at any time. I am simply saying that at present I am not even contemplating the removal of Capt. Titus."

The Commissioner said that the Detective Bureau was in need of perhaps a dozen detectives. He will select the men from the detectives whom he has reduced during the summer. He has called for the records of all of these men.

"There is a shortage of about fifty sergeants," he said. "I will fill those vacancies as soon as I can. They will be made from the ranks of the roundmen and the sergeants, and will be of considerable merit. The promotions will be made this week."

MAGNATE'S SON BACK FROM WAR

Youthful Heir of W. B. Leeds, President of Rock Island Road, Ran Away to Join Colombian Rebels.

DID NOT LIKE SCHOOL.

The splendid Fifth avenue home of W. B. Leeds, President of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, encompassed more joy today than it has known in many weeks for the young son of the house came back from the war, to which he had run away filled with visions of military glory.

Went to Fight in Colombia.
Young Mr. R. G. Leeds is pretty young for a prodigal. He is only sixteen years old. He got back from Colombia on the Ward line steamship Segura today, whither he went a month ago to help Gen. Uribe Uribe free his country from the grasp of a tyrant who probably did much worse as a ruler than the liberating General would be if he got a good chance.

The young man's uncle, W. M. Leeds, who is at the head of the American Tin Plate Company, was at the pier when the steamship landed her passengers and took possession of his nephew. No statement has been given out as to what he did or said to him.

Young Leeds was attending Phillips Andover Academy when this martial impression seized him. He had been reading in the newspapers about the doings of the insurgents in Colombia, and he made up his mind that there was a chance for fun and glory if he could only get down there. So one fine night he slipped away from school, made his way to New York and boarded a ship for Panama.

Consul Instructed to Seize Him.
His departure from Andover was telegraphed to his parents and they began working the wires all over the continent. They had a way of doing things well when they start in, and so by the time the embryo rebel got to Panama his whereabouts were known and the United States Consul there had instructions to seize him.

This and the Colombian Government made a great deal of trouble. The young soldier was held a prisoner until his boat sailed for North America, and then he was bundled aboard. The Captain got instructions to see that he didn't escape at any of the intermediate ports. He was showed along up to one of the Mexican ports, where the Sagunara was caught and the boy put aboard of her, bound for New York.
